WINEMAKER COMMENTS	The aromatics are bold with complex notes of black and blue berries accompanied by hints of red currant and spice. The palate carries forward with a supple display of black fruits, red currants, sweet plum and an earthy quality that supports its elegant yet power-driven Bordeaux model. The finish is framed by succulent tannins and bright acidity surrounding the individual palate characteristics with layers of intensity that seem to carry-on forever.	Visually, the classic rich golden tones hint to the richness yet to come on the nose and palate. The nose displays notes of spiced baked apple and tropical fruits that lead to a palate carrying forward the aromatics of the nose with an added note of white fig braced by bold acidity, firm structure and a rich mouthfeel. The lush finish is round and exhibits both length and layers of complexity.	A deep crimson color ushers in a nose exhibiting touches of wild spice, black and red cherries along with cranberry and an underlying tone of earth and forest floor. The palate is an extension of the nose with added notes of red currant, yellow plum and a hint of citrus to extend the bright fruit impressions. A nuance of minerality adds complexity and contributes to the unique personality of this wine. Supple tannins form a rich mouthfeel and add to an integrated finish balanced by bright acidity, depth, breadth and length.	An underlying garnet tone accents the deep ruby color. Red and black cherries act as the aromatic base of the nose with heavy accents of white pepper, currant and just a hint of earthiness. Black cherry flavors dominate the palate with rhubarb, red berries, Asian spice and minerality all combining to add a bit of zest. The sweet tannins and elegance of the palate carry forward to a long polished finish bringing into focus the intense structure and elegant side of this noble grape.
